Full Circle is a residential program located in Rapid City, SD for 18 and older pregnant and parenting females, and their dependent children, who are struggling with drinking and/or taking drugs and who lack the ability to abstain from drinking or taking drugs. This program provides coordinated substance abuse intervention and treatment, health care, and supportive services to pregnant and/or parenting women.

Phase 2 is the Clinically Managed Low Intensity Residential Phase of the program and is designed to provide women with a safe, secure, and structured place to stay before and after the baby is born. Case managers help obtain housing and become involved in education, vocational programs, and parenting classes among other services. Residents are encouraged to utilize the group home styled facilities for 3 months post birth. In Phase 3, Full Circle offers case management services upon a client's discharge from Phase 2. Services included in this phase would be continued provision of support groups and counseling, as well as ongoing linking with vocational, childcare, educational, and support services in the community. Description:

The goal of Carroll Institute is to eliminate the problems associated with drug and alcohol abuse. We address the problem of the individual first, helping them to identify the tragic results of untreated addictions. Our counselors then stress the importance of learning how to make the right choices in overcoming addictive thinking. Treatment helps one to recognize, accept and deal with the problems that have resulted from abuse of drugs and alcohol.

But, addictions always have a way of affecting so many more people, often impacting unintended victims in the family. The Carroll Institute works with families as a system offering each member the chance to participate in group and individual sessions to aid in the recovery process.

We provide all our clients with comprehensive and cost effective services. In so doing, the Carroll Institute is committed to providing individual and our community, as a whole, leadership and expertise in the prevention and treatment of alcohol and drug abuse and addiction. Below is an outline of the services we provide.

Services:

Prevention Programming:

Project Awareness: Prevention and Education. This program reaches over 4,000 young people and families every year in the greater Sioux Falls area. The program was developed 30 years ago by the Sioux Falls School District, Courts and the local PTA after a young girl died from the effects of drug abuse. What started as a drop-in center for kids has now developed to a program with counselors in area schools within a 60 mile radius of Sioux Falls who provide education, support training, crisis intervention with families and support groups for students having difficult adjustments. Work with families is accomplished through two innovative programs: “Level I” (first time offender’s program) and “Intensive Prevention Program” (IPP). We also offer an 18-20 year old Young Adult Diversion Program. By design, family involvement is mandated by referrals from courts and strongly recommended by Carroll Institute.

Early Intervention: The procedures by which a counselor identifies and evaluates an individual’s strengths, weaknesses, problems and needs for the development of a treatment plan.

Outpatient and Intensive Outpatient Services:

Carroll Outpatient, Intensive Outpatient & Jail Treatment: Treatment services for Adults: Approximately 1500 people in southeastern South Dakota receive evaluations, urinalysis, individual counseling, family therapy and group therapy, multiple-family group, Parent Support Group and Aftercare each year.

Our Adult Intensive Outpatient Treatment Program is a comprehensive program for adults. It includes corrective thinking, feelings investigation, self-esteem, anger/grief issues, goal setting, relationship issues, support systems, relapse prevention, individual and family counseling and a strong 12 Step foundation.

Our Jail Treatment Program is also an intensive outpatient treatment program for incarcerated adults. This program provides Minnehaha County Jail Inmates with alcohol and drug issues the opportunity to seek treatment and begin working towards skills necessary to live a clean and sober lifestyle when they are released.

Our Aftercare Program is a one hour per week reconnection for clients beginning recovery from drugs and alcohol. The group discussion topics are a more in-depth look at issues that can make or break recovery. Topics include relapse prevention, trust building, values, feelings, anger management, relationships, etc...

Methamphetamine Treatment Program:

Our Methamphetamine Treatment Program began on September 18, 2006. This program is a 12 to 18 month intensive outpatient treatment program utilizing the Matrix Model. Clients must have a minimum of two weeks detoxification time prior to entering the program. They will attend 16 weeks of intensive outpatient services, (some will be residing in a half-way house while completing this phase), followed by continued residential treatment if needed and 6 to 9 months of aftercare services. Individual and family sessions are included. Family education is also provided in a group setting. Contingency management is utilized for attendance and negative urinalysis testing. Urinalysis testing is completed frequently.

Day Treatment Services:

Carroll Institute Day Treatment Program: Carroll Institute is not currently providing Day Treatment Services for adults, but may consider providing this service again in the future.

Clinically Managed Low Intensity Residential Programs:

Arch Halfway House: A rehabilitative residence for men recovering from chemical dependency: The “Arch Halfway House” has served over 3000 people since it opened in 1973. Concerned families initiated the program and gained community support to purchase the former Lutheran Church parsonage, which was converted to provide a halfway house program for those returning to the community from inpatient treatment or prison. The Arch Halfway House phone number is 605-332-6730 and has a capacity of 30.

Changes and Choices: Changes and Choices is a low-intensity residential treatment program for women. It was established in January 2005 with the purpose of affording chemically dependent women a safe, secure, drug-free facility to heal from harmful addictions in a positive and caring environment. We are able to house up to 20 women at a time and provide all of the essentials needed for a healthy and successful stay. Some program elements of the program include but are not limited to secure, drug-free residence, daily nutrition, 24 hour staff, individual, group and family therapy, employment assistance, recreational therapy, working to develop a support system, life skills, relapse prevention, spirituality, anger management and corrective thinking. Changes and Choices phone number is 605-332-9257.

Services:

Prevention (speaking engagements, media promotion, classroom presentations, multi-agency coordination and collaboration/coalition activities: community and volunteer training/coalition training, systemic planning, various peer helping programs for general student population and athletes, chemical free events, formal/informal alcohol, tobacco, other drug and violence (ATODV) policy development and enforcement for students, including athletes; problem identification and referral through a two level education and discipline system (eight-hour PRI class and one-on-one brief, motivational counseling); AOD assessments for students; early intervention; direct and indirect client support; support groups for students in recovery or with family members who are chemically dependent; referral to AA and NA.

Description:

NSU Counseling Center is proactive in addressing alcohol, tobacco, other drug and violence (ATODV) issues and problems. The ultimate aim is to create a safe campus and an environment that nurtures students' academic and social development, thus enhancing each student's capacity for learning. Staff work collaboratively with various NSU departments including Residence Life, NSU's Athletic Department and the Fifth Judicial Court to create a student assistance program for responding to individuals experiencing chemical use problems through strong policy development and enforcement of campus policies and local, state and federal laws. This centralized progressive education/discipline system utilizes PRI's On Campus Talking About Alcohol (OCTAA) eight-hour class on the first violation and more intensive one-on-one brief, motivational counseling for subsequent violations utilizing the research based program for college students – Brief Alcohol Screening and Intervention for College Students (BASICS). Through a 10 day training, residence hall staff are provided the knowledge and skills to enforce the ATODV policies with the understanding that these measures contribute to a safe environment which enhances NSU's ability to accomplish its educational mission. Information regarding ATODV policies is disseminated to students, staff, parents, student organization advisors, and athletes on an annual basis. Student leaders (peer helpers) are trained in a six-day retreat to promote positive, healthy norms and effectively intervene in high-risk situations. Gatekeeper training each semester increase the knowledge base and skills of groups of individuals who have contact with large numbers of students, i.e. residence life staff, peer helpers, mentors, and athletes through the Student Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC). Speaking engagements, classroom presentations and media campaigns are conducted to increase knowledge about high-risk behaviors, protective factors, and/or health enhancing behaviors. Social, recreational and public service options are provided for students that do not include alcohol, tobacco and other drugs. With an eye toward environmental prevention, staff worked collaboratively with community organizations to change the underlying economic, legal and sociocultural processes of community systems that contribute to high-risk chemical use and resulting violence. Chemical dependency counselors/trainees also provide ongoing individual and group counseling for students who are harmfully involved with chemicals as well as those affected by someone else's use. In addition, AOD assessments are provided to students.

The purpose of the program is to assist adolescents in re-establishing their recovery program and in making vital community connections to support recovery. The primary method of treatment is through group format, although portions of the program are conducted individually and with the client's family. If work or other restraints does not allow for the group meetings, arrangements can be made for individual sessions. This program is conducted by staff both Certified Chemical Dependency Counselors and Licensed Professional Counselors.

Family Counseling is a part of the YFS program. All clients are tasked with having their spouse or significant other attend one or more sessions. These sessions are conducted in individual format and are private and confidential. They address support for the client as well as for the family member. These sessions can also be used to aide the family in adjusting to the client's sobriety and understanding the phases of recovery. An Aftercare Program is also available. This program is conducted either individually or in groups. Program length varies depending on needs of individuals. Aftercare provides counseling related to continued abstinence from alcohol/drug use and includes topics such as relapse identification and prevention, healthy communication, support systems, rational thinking, stress management and health relationships.

Assessments are conducted using standard ASAM guidelines. The assessments are conducted in individual sessions. The cost of the Assessment is a standard $60 fee for all clients who meet the financial eligibility. Otherwise the standard fee is $190.00.
